

Use of LAIA community email lists

The community email list of Loch Alpine residents, compiled and managed by LAIA with the consent of each resident whose email address is included in the community list, shall not be made available to any individual person, organization, enterprise or business. Although residents' email addresses may be published with their express consent in the community phone directory, the community email list shall not be published. The community email list is restricted to the following purposes:

- Distribution of LAIA community information, newsletters and surveys
- Announcements of LAIA community events and meetings
- Safety and security alerts
- Distribution of Loch Alpine Sanitary Authority information
- Distribution of school district information that has direct implications to residents
- Distribution of township and county information that has direct implications to residents

Any requests for using the email community list to distribute information that is not included in the above stated purposes must be approved by the LAIA Board of Directors.
